Construction Manager / Construction Coordinator (m/f/d) – Shape the networks of the future!

Who we are

We plan, build and maintain modern infrastructure and systems technology for our customers in the fields of telecommunications, building services and energy technology. As a mature medium-sized company with around 140 employees in four companies, we focus on strong team values, an open atmosphere and the goal of creating sustainable solutions together.

Our employee satisfaction speaks for itself: staff turnover has been minimal for years, because at our company, employees are not just a number – and we live by this principle every day. Whether it's supplementary health insurance, joint celebrations or other attractive benefits – at our company, people are the focus.

To further strengthen our team, we are looking for you – as a construction manager/construction coordinator (m/f/d).

Your role

As a construction manager/construction coordinator (m/f/d) in mobile communications, you will be responsible for planning, managing and documenting our construction projects. You will ensure that deadlines, costs and quality are kept in check and will become the central point of contact on and off the construction site. You will work closely with our team assistants, installation staff and subcontractors and keep everything running smoothly.

This is where you come in:

- Site inspections & documentation: You will carry out structural inspections, record relevant data and carefully document all steps.
- Planning & calculation: You will prepare quotations, carry out calculations and plan the use of resources.
- Briefing & coordination: You will brief installation personnel and subcontractors and ensure that everything runs smoothly on the construction site.
- Organisation & control: You will create construction files, maintain installation folders, plan orders and control costs, deadlines and subcontractors.
- Cooperation: You will work closely with the team assistant and act as the interface between the construction site, the office and customers.

What we want

- You have more than three years of professional experience in construction management, ideally in a comparable industry, and have comprehensive expertise in the management and supervision of complex construction projects.
- You have in-depth knowledge of communication and network technology and a good understanding of the network structures of mobile phone operators.
